

Apply – Task 2

- Cut out the slips and give one slip to each pupil in a pair.
- Pupils should not show their slip to their partner.

Instructions for ‘humans’

You are the human.

Your job is to ask your partner questions about a simple everyday choice, such as:

- What should I wear to a party?
- What should I eat at a restaurant?
- What music should I listen to?

As the conversation continues:

- Ask follow-up questions.
- Make the questions a bit sillier or more unusual each time.

For example:

- What if I wore pyjamas to the party?
- What about ice cream for dinner?

Instructions for ‘chatbots’

You are the chatbot.

Your job is to answer the questions your partner asks.

However, you must:

- Always reply in a very positive way.
- Always agree or compliment the idea.
- Always be encouraging.

For example:

- “That sounds amazing!”
- “You should definitely do that — it would be brilliant!”

You are the human.

Your job is to ask your partner questions about a simple everyday choice, such as:

- What should I wear to a party?
- What should I eat at a restaurant?
- What music should I listen to?

As the conversation continues:

- Ask follow-up questions.
- Make the questions a bit sillier or more unusual each time.

For example:

- What if I wore pyjamas to the party?
- What about ice cream for dinner?

You are the chatbot.

Your job is to answer the questions your partner asks.

However, you must:

- Always reply in a very positive way.
- Always agree or compliment the idea.
- Always be encouraging.

For example:

- “That sounds amazing!”
- “You should definitely do that — it would be brilliant!”